

JUNIOR CONSULTANT - NETHERLANDS

Job Description

To strengthen our Dutch office, we are looking for a Junior Consultant, with less than 3 years of consulting experience in growth strategy, marketing, sales, customer service, innovation and/or digital transformation.

Your function:

- As a Junior Consultant, you are part of one or more project team(s) and support our clients in achieving their growth objectives and defining client tailored solutions:
  - Development of analysis frameworks and recommendations;
  - Implementation of improvement and change programs;
  - Project and program management activities.
- You develop in-depth understanding of client challenges and become a trusted advisor.
- Next to delivering projects, junior consultants also play an active role in the development of our Dutch Hedera practice by creating new business opportunities and developing our customer portfolio.
- Occasional travelling to support or deliver international projects.

Profile

- You have a master degree (business administration, engineering or related field)
- You have 0-3 years of experience in management consulting and project management in our core domains: growth strategy, marketing, sales, customer service or digital transformation;
- You have an entrepreneurial spirit and you value listening to our client needs;
- You are able to work in teams or independently, manage small engagements or parts of larger engagements;
- You are able to develop creative strategies and change programs in order to sustain the growth of our customers;
- You are structured and pragmatic in your approach;
- You have strong analytical and problem solving skills;
- You have strong oral and written communication skills, including presentation skills;
- Fluency in Dutch and English is a must.

What we offer

As a Hedera Junior Consultant, you will be part of a dynamic and fast-growing company with plenty of development opportunities. You will face challenging assignments and take crucial responsibilities in small and large engagements in an entrepreneurial atmosphere.

We offer a very attractive and competitive compensation package, including company car, fringe benefits and attractive bonus schemes.

Your growth! Our passion!
